WARRIOR NATION CODE OF CONDUCT

Members of the Warrior Nation are ambassadors of Trinidad and Tobago. Members must act in a manner that gives a positive image of our country, our team and our support.

Members will not partake in any act of violence, intimidation or provocation and will show respect for the culture, customs, property and laws of all countries that we encounter.

Members will not write, speak or express any discriminatory sentiment to any team, country or class of people based on race, ethnicity, gender or sexual orientation.

Members will be sensitive to others and be aware of the limits beyond which passionate support and good-natured picong (frivolous banter) become offensive behavior and unwelcome abuse.

The Warrior Nation is an all-inclusive organization and children are welcomed and are the future of our organization. Members should be aware of the likelihood of younger supporters around them at games and moderate their behavior and language accordingly.

Members will not partake in any activity that is likely to disrupt the normal progression and enjoyment of games or scheduled events. This includes interfering with, match officials, players or fans.

The Warrior Nation is a club that fosters unity. As such, all members are expected to show the utmost respect and camaraderie to each other, regardless of varied opinions.
